Workshop Information

Bio-Fuels, Bio-Energy Friday, June 18, 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM

We will discuss the changing world of fossil fuels, the use of bio-fuels in vehicle fleets, grants and loans for bio-fuels and bio-energy projects, the economic development potential for bio-fuels, algae biodiesel development, cellulosic ethanol, jet fuel from wood waste, biomass resources in western Colorado and the potential for co-fire biomass with coal.

Scheduled speakers include: (Mayor of Montrose), Scott Shine (City of Montrose), Phil von Hake, Art Hale (State of Colorado), Alan Brown, John Gonzales, Pattie Snidow (USDA), Debra Wilcox (Bye Energy), (USFS speaker), (NREL speaker) and Lee Boughey (TSGT)

Registration: email public.relations@dmea.com

GEO Regional Energy Coordinator Planning Friday, June 18, 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM

The Governor's Energy Office (GEO) will host a Peer-to-Peer exchange for Community Energy Coordinators (CEC). CEC's are under contract with GEO, and represent Colorado's 52 rural and mountain counties. This workshop will focus on policy and programs for reducing energy, water, petroleum and waste in government operations.

GEO's Commercial Buildings and Greening Government Program Managers will present information in the morning. During the afternoon session, CECs and GEO Program staff will brainstorm specific strategies and share successful case studies for saving energy and money in the public sector. The workshop is open to staff from public entities or non-profits interested in learning about "greening government" initiatives.

Registration: email Angie.Fyfe@state.co.us

Micro-Hydro Friday, June 18, 1:00 PM – 5:00 PM

Colorado has substantial, currently-untapped potential for the development of renewable, clean and local hydropower. Topics to be covered at the workshop will include the following: the current status of micro-hydro in Colorado; the FERC permitting process; support for micro-hydro available from the Colorado Governor's Energy Office; Federal, state and local financial incentives for micro-hydro; site-screening criteria for micro-hydro projects; and case studies of recently-developed micro-hydro projects in Colorado. The workshop will include a tour of Ouray micro-hydro installations, including the historic Ouray power plant, one of the nation's oldest micro-hydro generation plans.

Speakers will include the following: Colorado Governor's Energy Office; Colorado State Senator Bruce Whitehead; San Miguel Power Association; Delta Montrose Electric Association; Telluride Energy, Hydrowest; Recent micro-hydro projects forum includes speakers from the following: City of Ouray, City of Cortez, San Juan County Historical Society, Coal Creek Hydro, Humphreys Hydro, City of Aspen.
